Family Re-Union.

Yesterday, May 20th, being the occasion of the 89th birthday of Col. Charles B. Waggener, the event was celebrated by an elaborately prepared dinner and family re-union. The following are the members of the family present upon this occasion:

Col. C. B. Waggener, Mrs. C. B. Waggener, Mr. A. C. Waggener, Miss M. S. Waggener, Miss L. B. Waggener, Miss E. O. Waggener, Dr. C. B. Waggener, Master John Waggener, Master Welton Waggener, Miss Margaret Waggener, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Waggener, and two sons Windon and Earnest, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Neal, Miss Margaret Neal, Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Neale, Miss Kate M. Neale, Miss M. S. Neale, Master C. B. W. Neale, Master E. L. Neale, Miss Margaret L. Neale, Master A. L. Neale.

After spending the afternoon, in conversation and reminiscences, the happy family, brought together to congratulate the parent and grandfather, for his preservation and splendid health, that brought him safely to his 89th mile post, bid him adieu about 4:00 p. m., and departed for their several homes, all wishing him many returns of the same, in which the Register joins them.

Announcement.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Mary, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Hill, at their home in Fulton, Ky., to Mr. John Donald MacRae, June 1st, 1898, at 8:30 p. m. The Register acknowledges the receipt of an invitation, and regretting our inability to be present upon the happy occasion, begs to tenders its best wishes for the future of these young people.

VALUES ARE SIMPLY AN ACCOUNTING TO THE PEOPLE.

If properly regarded, values are simply an accounting which the merchant makes unto the people for that public confidence which admits him to the enjoyment of success. Consequently there is no credit—no merchant for providing values, but great contempt merited if he disbursts anything else. Again, values are the passports to mercantile success, wherein there is no tolerance for anyone who deals in inferior merchandise. A merchant must deal in goods becoming a merchant if he would have standing in the business world as well as standing with the community.

It is quite unnecessary for us to dwell upon the palpable enjoyment, desirable from handling the best merchandise there is made. We have never experienced the self-satisfaction which must be generated by knowing one is not doing the best one can. If we appear to be happy in our business it is because there is nothing to make us otherwise. We are doing our utmost all the time for the people, and they are doing their utmost toward us in return, and everything and everybody are satisfied.

Dress Materials.

We have said what we say above, chiefly to introduce the fact that no department have we exemplified the candor of our accounting to the people more than in dress materials, where a large portion of unworthy selling of goods transpires.

It seems to exist in the minds of many sellers, that price, regardless of value, is the potential influence in business.

These, and all our other Dress Goods Bargains are remarkable examples of to reverse.

For eighteen months he had been troubled with dysentery and had tried three of the best doctors in New Orleans, besides half a dozen or more patent medicines, but received very little relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy having been recommended to him, he gave it a trial and to his great surprise, three doses of that remedy effected a permanent cure. Mr. Wm. McNamara, a well known merchant of the same place, is well acquainted with Mr. Peterson, and attests to the truth of this statement. This remedy is for sale by G. W. M. Hood.

Re-Captured.

Ben Giles, of Ambrosia, a lanky negro, under indictment for shooting with intent to kill, and out on bond for his appearance at late term of Court, jumped his bond and skipped to Ohio. He was apprehended Friday at Gallipolis by officer Gilmore, and our authorities informed. He was looked up in the Gallipolis jail all night, and Saturday was turned over to officers Smith and Foglesong, who brought him to this place and placed him in jail. He will probably remain there until Court meets again, as he will not likely be able to give another bond.

Two carrier pigeons from Moundsville were brought down on No. 3, O. R. R., Saturday and were turned loose from Cedar Point hill at 10 a. m., Sunday. These pigeons were turned loose twice before out in the interior of Ohio, a distance of 125 miles, and reached Moundsville safely in every short space of time. The distance from here to Moundsville, is 164 miles and as soon as we learn of their arrival we will give the time to the public through the columns of the Daily Register. Messrs. E. R. Lindsey and I. L. Palmer, two O. R. R. men brought them here.

The bicycle fever has a stronger hold this season than ever before in this city. The number of riders is steadily increasing. If anyone doubts this statement, let them go up to the paved streets any pleasant evening, and there they will see a perfect swarm of cyclists of all ages and sexes and in all stages of proficiency, from the novice to the expert.

Again we call the attention of the street committee to the fact that they are not enforcing the order of the council directing them to have all decayed telegraph, telephone and electric light poles removed or re-placed with new ones.

The council should prevent by ordinance, the posting or tacking of posters and signs on telegraph, telephone and electric light poles; and should go still further and require all poles running through the streets of the town to be painted.

Miss Edna Ellison at the Episcopal Sunday School yesterday, exchanged embrellas with some one. The one she has is marked with "W," on the face of the handle. She would be glad to re-exchange.

Chester Massie, living near Huntington, was killed across the Kentucky border last Sunday by Sam Stephens, Massie was to have been married Wednesday to a former sweetheart of Stephens', and this was the cause of the tragedy. Stephens escaped.

The hands of the girl who does housework for a living may not be as white and soft as her sister who is a parlor ornament, but she is a girl who will do to tie to when it comes to making a happy home.

The snake editors are unusually backward this spring, but whether it is because the varmints are out of whiskey, we are not advised.—Parkersburg Sentinel.

The season for strawberry festivals has arrived, but none have been given in this place yet, but the town will not escape, you can bet your life.

Saturday was intensely hot and oppressive, giving a fellow a foretaste of what is in store for him after he drops from this earth, if he does not mend his ways.

There is a bad rut on 6th street, opposite the Equity Milling Co.'s office and also one on Main street, opposite Dr. Barbee's office, that should receive attention.

"Sampson-Dewey"—is holding a levee with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stortz, this May 23d, at 3:15 a. m. Congratulations to the happy parents.

CHICKAMAUGA, GA, May 19, 1898.

COL. J. P. R. B. SMITH.
DEAR SIR:—If you can subscribe a few dollars, $1.00 or anything for us, would be of great favor to us. Most of the boys have no money but we haven't got a cent to buy paper to write, or money to buy tobacco. There are seven of us from Point Pleasant, and all are happy. Wishing an early reply by the boys.

Within the last night or two attempts have been made by thieves to enter residences in the upper part of the town, but in each instance they were detected and driven off at the muzzle of a pistol. The town is overrun with thieves of all kinds and description, and an example made of one or two of them may put a stop to some of the petty thieving.

Preaching.
Rev. A. E. Grover, of this city, will preach at Morgan's school house next Sunday morning and night, and at the school house near Maupin's Station (Arbuckle) at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Trains should not be permitted to run through town at a greater speed than that prescribed by the ordinance. All the crossings on the K. & M. and Ohio R. R., are dangerous places, and if the reckless speed is not checked, there is going to be a horrible accident to chronicle in the newspapers some of these days.

Long and tiresome sermons will not draw big church congregations. The fault is with the preacher and not with the people. Try brevity awhile and see if your congregations do not increase.

Married.
In this city, May 23d, 1898, Rev. W. J. Holt, of Trinity M. E. church united in marriage Mr. Thomas Brady, of New York City, and Mrs. Hannah Lewis, of Point Pleasant. The Register extends its best wishes to the happy couple.

In answer to the question "where should the line be drawn between free and paid advertising," an exchange very logically says: "Every line published by personal request that will result to their pecuniary advantage shall be paid for. Editors themselves must be careful with voluntary notices that they may not be accused of inconsistency."

Water Works.
Mr. Thos. A. Dunn, of Scranton, Pa., is in the city, talking water works, and will ask the town council to grant him and his company a franchise, and says if it is granted water works of the first-class will be built for the town at once. Now is the time to act, and act quickly, if the town really desires water works and fire protection. To grant a fair, liberal franchise for this purpose, in which both the Company and the town are protected, can but add much to the value of the property of the town, and also do much toward reducing the heavy rates of insurance we are now paying. If the council means business let the body act promptly, and not let this opportunity slip by. Mr. Dunn represents a strong Company, which is backed up by the best of reference, and if the franchise is granted them, will proceed to build the water works, yet this year, for the town, giving a good and perfect system, at fair and liberal water rents. Mr. Dunn is now building or is about to commence the erection of water works at Pomeroy.

Let Point Pleasant "keep up with the procession" or drop to the rear. The matter is with the Council whether we shall have water works or not. None of our own citizens will ever build them, and therefore a franchise should be granted this company, on guarded conditions.
